ABOUT ME

Melissa DiVietri is a multi-dimensional abstract artist, advocate, and AI technology builder from Michigan. Melissa was born with sacral agenesis — a rare congenital condition affecting the lower body, spine which also impacts her mobility. She has been painting since 5 years old and transforms lived experience into expressive abstraction by painting with purpose.

Widely known online as Blue Eye Queen, with exhibitions across borders worldwide, Melissa's work has appeared through ArtPoint in France, Einsight in China, Detroit Institute of Arts, Art Basel in Miami, ArtPrize in Michigan, ETHDenver, NFT.NYC, Museum of Modern Art and Dream Gallery in downtown New York along painting programs connected internationally.

She is a keynote speaker across global stages and author on important topics discussing disability etiquette and deep discussions. Her lived experiences transformed into published books and stories: "A Tale of A Service Animal," and "The ABCs of Disability Etiquette" in Barnes & Noble, Books-A-Million, Books&Books, Spotify, Amazon and other major retailers.
